Local Students Witness Ceremony Welcoming French

Five Whitesburg High School students and Miss Viola Cook, French teacher, went to Frankfort this week to help the State of Kentucky welcome the French Gratitude Train. The train, sent in appreciation of the American Friendship Train to Europe a few months ago, had 48 coaches, one for each state.

The group left Whitesburg last Sunday afternoon, spent Monday in Lexington, and then went to Frankfort. The students were Martha Ann Holbrook, Barbara Barker, Shirley Goodwin, John Walter Hale, and Sammy Maggard.

Due to bad weather conditions in the state capitol, there was no display of documents and other contents of the train. The Whitesburg group did however, get to witness the ceremony welcoming the train to Kentucky. The contents of one coach was donated to the state by the French people.

Jenkins Business Reverts To Owner

Last Saturday the ownership and operation of the restaurant section of the Jenkins Recreation Building reverted to the former owner, A. C. Combs. The business will be under the management of George Combs, a son of the owner.

Recently leased by D. C. Smith, the restaurant was picketed by the United Construction Workers Union last week following a disagreement over employment rights. The new management states that the disagreement has been settled.

Work was begun last Friday on a drug store in the Recreation Building adjoining the restaurant. The new business will be leased and will have no connection with the restaurant, Mr. George Combs stated.

Street Widening Begins In Jenkins

Actual work began last Friday on the widening of Main Street in Jenkins with the removal of tree roots along the right-of-way. The street, now 18 feet, will be 40 feet wide when the project is completed.

August Codispotti, superintendent in charge, said it was hoped that the project would be completed in four months. The road when finished will be water-bound macadam, he stated.

The contract was awarded last November for broadening the street from the Jenkins Hotel to the railroad crossing in the upper end of Jenkins, a distance of about 2000 feet. A member of the Jenkins town board stated that the contract price was $99,000, to be paid partly by the federal government and partly by the state, since the street is on U. S. 119 and Ky. 23.

The Allen-Codell Construction Company of Winchester is doing the work. Construction has been slightly held back by the necessity of removing power lines and water mains. The problem will soon be overcome, Mr. Codispotti said.

The Mountain Eagle is not restricted by the surrounding mountains. This week we received a subscription renewal and an order for some job printing from C. L. Collins of Shelton, Washington.

Thanks Mr. Collins!

Business Men Meet Officers Elected

On Tuesday night, Feb. 15, a group of some twenty-five or thirty of Whitesburg's leading businessmen met at the fiscal room in the court house to complete the organization of the Whitesburg Businessmen's Club. The membership committee reported that 46 members had paid dues of $5.00 each and are now eligible to become members.

Emmett G. Fields acted as temporary chairman, W. S. Duncan was temporary secretary. Upon a motion and seconding and a vote of those present, the following officers were elected:

V. D. Picklesimer, Pres.
Kermit Combs, Vice-Pres.
Stephen Combs, Jr., secretary-treasurer;
Herman Hale and Gordon Lewis, Directors.

These five members were elected to work as a board of directors for the good of the club. Constitution and by-laws for the club were also voted upon and approved.

It was decided that all meetings in the future will be held on the first Monday night of each month at the hour of 7:30 and remain in session for one hour.

To The Taxpayer

Last year, in order to meet the requirements of the State Board of Education to qualify for the equalization fund of approximately ninety thousand dollars for the teachers and schools of Letcher County, the Letcher County Board of Education at one of its regular sessions, raised the school tax the exact sum of twenty-five cents per one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of property. Just for an example: if your property had an assessed valuation of two thousand dollars, your increase for school taxes would be exactly five dollars. This raise should not be linked or confused with any additional taxes paid by our citizens brought about by any increase in the assessed valuation of their property this year. It is only fair to the public that this information be made clear.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

March Of Dimes Campaign Comes To a Close

The local March of Dimes closed last week and a tentative total of $1450.00 was donated by the people, businesses, schools, and clubs of Letcher County, according to Mrs. W. P. Nolan, county chairman. The total this year was below that for last year, Mrs. Nolan said, probably because of poor business conditions among the local truck mines.

Following is a list of those who donated $5.00 or more to the fund:

Elkhorn Country Club, $30.00; Sandlick Bible Class, 10.00; Elkhorn Junior Coal Company, $10.00; Dr. Owen Pigman, Whitesburg, $5.00; Elkhorn Coal Company, Kona, $5.00; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Banks, Whitesburg, $5.00; Ray Tolliver, Whitesburg, $5.00; KYVA Motor Company, $5.00; Sam Collins, Whitesburg, $5.00; Mr. and Mrs. V. C. O. Gabany, Kona, $5.00; Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Tarleton, Sr., Jenkins, $10.00; Herman Hale, Whitesburg, $5.00; Martha Jane Potter, Whitesburg, $5.00; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Abbott, Jenkins, $10.00; Whitesburg Lions Club, $25.00; M. A. Dunlap, Jenkins, $10.00; Ammerman Motor Co., $5.00; Dr. A. B. Carter, Fleming, $10.00; Mae Logan, Whitesburg, $5.00; Local Union 384 UCW, $10.00; Stuart Robinson School, $36.30; Jeanne Francis Coal Co., $10.00; Community Fuel Co., $25.00; Time Finance Co., Neon, $10.00; Western Auto Store, Whitesburg, $5.00; Ann Dugan, Whitesburg, $5.00; Whitesburg Dept. Store, $5.00; Whitesburg Rotary Club 25.00. Local Union No. 5810 Thornton $10.00.

Other donations were listed in last week's Eagle. A correction on last week's list is that the Whitesburg Women's Club donated $36.00 and the Whitesburg grade school gave $70.00, instead of the reverse as was listed.

The final total will be given next week.

Neon Lions Club Donates Magazines

Tuesday, Feb. 22, will be ladies night at the regular meeting of the Neon Lions Club. The group will meet at the Fleming High School.

At their last meeting, held Feb. 8, the club donated a year's subscription to a boy's magazine to each member of the Neon Boys Scout troop.

CARD OF THANKS

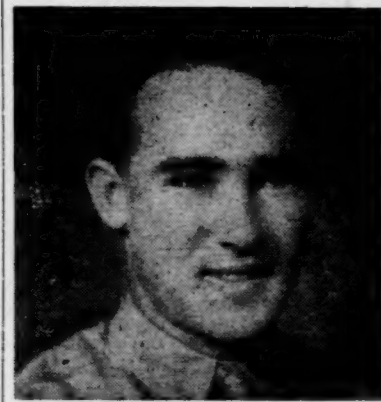

We wish to express our thanks to those who were so kind to us during the death of our little boy, Owen Billie Burton Brush. We thank the Doctors for their untiring efforts, the ministers for their most appreciated and comforting words, those who sent the beautiful flowers and all the good folks who stayed near us and helped us in any way and we sincerely thank the Craft Funeral Home staff for their splendid service rendered. State Reports Rise In Number Receiving Unemp. Checks

Unemployment insurance claims continued upward during January although at a slower rate than in the two preceding months, O. B. Hannah, director of the state's Division of Unemployment Insurance, reported recently. January was the fourth consecutive month of claims load increase.

Total new claims filed in January was the largest for any corresponding month since 1940 and the third highest since unemployment insurance benefit payments began in 1939, Mr. Hannah said. Kentucky is divided into 23 areas, each served by a local office of the Department of Economic Security of which the Division of Unemployment Insurance is a part.

L. P. Jones, director of the Department's Employment Service Division, reported that new applications for work jumped 75 per cent over December. New applications received during the month of January numbered 15,236, he said.

Offices of the Department received the fewest number of job orders since September 1946, and made the fewest number of job placements for any single month since February, 1940.

Mrs. R. M. Dubovsky Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Eula Mae Gibson Dubovsky of Dearborn, Michigan died at her home after a short duration of a heart ailment last Thursday morning. She was born in Letcher County after finishing grade school at Whitesburg, she went to the Caney Community School for her high school and college degrees, then she came back to Whitesburg and became connected with the J. B. Dick & Co., where she made a host of friends.

In 1943 she went to Dearborn and for more than five years she was connected with the Cunningham Drug Store. During this time she met Rudolph Dubovsky and their acquaintance led to their marriage on August 22, 1948. The short duration of this marriage was the happiest of her life.

She is survived by her husband, Rudolph Dubovsky, her father, D. B. Gibson and sister, Mrs. Forest Hall of Baltimore, Md.; a brother, William Fred Gibson, Whitesburg and many relatives and a host of friends who loved her and who will miss her friendliness and kindly attentions. Her whole life might be summed up by saying that she always thought of others before herself.

The body arrived via L&N Monday evening and was then taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Banks of Whitesburg, until time of funeral services Wednesday morning 10:00 A. M., at the First Baptist Church, services by Revs. Marion Parker, Paul Stewart and Ernest Wilson. Burial in the family plot in the Mayking Cemetery. Funeral arrangements by the members of the Johnson Funeral Home.

Court of Honor Held at McRoberts For Boy Scouts

Scout troops of the Letcher District, Lonesome Pine Council, held a Court of Honor at McRoberts Monday night in the McRoberts Baptist Church. Troop 74, McRoberts, was the host for scouts and scouters from Seco, Millstone, Jenkins, Neon, Dunham, Hemphill and Fleming.

A capacity crowd, estimated at 260, witnessed the impressive candle lighting ceremony representing the cardinal points of scouting presented by the McRoberts troop.

The court awarded a total of 123 merit badges to 23 boys. The Neon troop was judged as having the best window display.

On Tuesday, Feb. 15, a meeting of scoutmasters, committeemen, neighborhood commissioners, the district commissioner, and the chairman of the Letcher District was held in Neon for planning and co-ordinating scouting activities in the district for the coming month.

Scouting has more than doubled in the Letcher District during the last year, Virgil Picklesimer, district chairman, stated, and the interest of parents and community leaders has shown an even more marked increase. Mr. Picklesimer said that the Lonesome Pine Council had promised a full-time field executive for the Letcher District, to spend all his time in the county, and 1949 is expected to be the greatest year the district has ever had in scouting activities.

The next district Court of Honor will be held at Dunham in June.

Jack Wise Collins was a business visitor in Blackey this week.

Whitesburg Starts Construction On City Hall Building

Work was started recently on Whitesburg's new city hall, a two-storey, brick and block structure, fire-proof and covering a space of 28 by 100 feet.

The city of Whitesburg let no contract for the building, handling of the construction being by the city itself. Charles F. Blair is supervising the work which will cost $35,000 if present plans are met.

The first storey of the building will house the city fire department, police court, and a fire-proof vault for records and files of the city government.

On the second floor will be located the city clerk's office, the city attorney, the mayor's office, and a large community hall. The basement of the building will contain the furnace room and one other compartment.

The building will have modern conveniences, Mr. Blair states. It will take about five months' work to complete the building, he says, but the weather and other problems may not permit this work to be continuous. Excavation has been completed and this week workers are preparing forms for the sidewalks in preparation to pouring cement for the sides.

D. E. Perkins of Harlan was the architect for the building.

New Watch Repair Shop Established

Andrew Frazier, Jr., a former student of Whitesburg High School, recently opened a new jewelry and watch-repair shop on Main Street in Whitesburg. He is the son of Andrew Frazier, Sr., of Kingdom Come and is a veteran of the European Theater of Operations.

Mr. Frazier attended the Kansas City School of Watch-Repairing and the institution writes that he is well-trained and well qualified for his chosen work. Mr. Frazier says his shop will do watch-repairing, jewelry repair work, stone setting, and engraving. He states his shop is equipped with the latest equipment, including the Watch Master.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Thornton Regular Baptist Church for Carmel Collins, 27, victim of an automobile accident in Haymond last Thursday night.

Mr. Collins, an automobile repair shop proprietor at Whittaker, was killed when the car which he was driving struck a loaded coal truck near the bridge in the upper end of Haymond. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Betty Crim Collins, and two children, Margaret Ann 5, and David, 2, and his parents, Robert Collins and Mrs. Bertha Hammonds Collins.

Mr. Collins had been in business at Whittaker for five years. He was a veteran, having spent two years in the Pacific Theater during the war. He was a former student of Whitesburg and Fleming high schools.

Burial was in the Thornton Cemetery. Active pallbearers were Ollie Kincer, Matthew Richardson, W. H. Collins, Burnett Holbrook, James Kincer and Ben Kincer. The officiating ministers were Elders Dewey Sexton, T. Collier, and G. Bennett Adams.

PARK NEEDED FOR MOUNTAIN COUNTIES

This year Kentucky will spend over a million and a half dollars on state parks. More than a million dollars of that money will be used for new buildings, land acquisition, landscaping, and various other improvements. Not one penny of the entire amount will be spent in Letcher county or in surrounding areas.

We here in the mountains feel that we are being slighted. We have, we think, as much to offer the tourist trade as does any section of Kentucky. In some respects we have more. With a little encouragement and financial help from the state our section could be one of the noted scenic spots of the South. Lack of opportunity, not lack of worthy assets, is our problem.

For instance, there is not a state park within 100 miles of Whitesburg. And yet Pine Mountain in Letcher County offers some of the most beautiful scenery to be seen in the entire Appalachian Mountain Range. The State Game and Fish Commission already holds an option on 12,000 acres of land in this county, including a large portion of Pine Mountain. Why doesn't the state turn that land into a state park? In our opinion, few things would be more helpful in developing a substantial tourist trade for this section. Pine Mountain has excellent sites for roadside parks and, in fact, one Letcher County coal company is more than willing to help sponsor such a project.

Perhaps one of the drawbacks to having a state park in this section is the roads that serve the mountain areas. But here again we of the mountains are not to blame. We pay our taxes and hope for the best. Although a federal highway, U. S. 119 is, in spots, hardly wide enough for two cars to pass, the shoulders are bad, and the road generally is in poor condition. Travelers in this section are distracted from the natural beauties of the mountains by the necessity of driving over discouraging roads. Again we say, with a little encouragement and financial help from the state our section could be famous for its scenic attractions.

We here in the mountains are not asking anything impossible or unreasonable. We firmly believe we have something to offer and desire the chance to do so. We need, and should have, a state park in this area. It would be worthwhile.

Comets Defeated By Pound Warriors

The Whitesburg Comets bowed to the Pound, Va., Warriors Saturday night, Feb. 12, in a fairly fast game on the Pound floor. The final score was 80 to 50.

The first quarter saw the two teams fairly close in scoring, the Warriors leading by only from two to four points most of the period. But during the rest of the game the Virginians pulled way ahead and stayed there.

High point man for the Whitesburg team was Paul Pigman, guard, with 19 points. Ben Bowen, also a guard, was second with 10 points. The Pound basketball players were led by Bolling center, who stacked up 21 points.

The Whitesburg team was handicapped by having two players, James Breeding and Ellis Adams, out of the playing. The Pound boys have piled up an impressive record this season. They also have the advantage of having four former all-state basketball players on their squad.

The first railroad to be built in the United States was built by the U. S. Army.

JEST AMONG US

—by Jack Wilde—

Eighty-four years ago, on February 22, 1865, the General Assembly of Kentucky enacted a law creating the institution that has become the University of Kentucky. Next week U. K. will observe Founders Day, and as part of the program an interesting exhibit tracing the development of the school has been arranged in the library. The following items were gathered there.

Legend says that brick for the first three buildings were made right on the campus, and that many of the early students earned part of their tuition by digging ditches . . . what now is the site of the Education Building originally was the Poor House Pond and later became the City Dump.

Maxwell Springs once flowed where the new Fine Arts Building is being constructed . . . fried steak, potato hash, and stewed prunes seemed to predominate at the Students' Mess in the late 80's.

. . . incoming students signed a register in the Administration Building and the boys checked their pistols there . . . the Yankee term, "co-eds," did not reach the campus until after the first World War. "Young lady students" were as welcome as the young men, but a strict monitress watched their every move.

The atmosphere of the chapel on the second floor of the main building was almost always formal during the administration of President James K. Patterson. One pleasant interlude occurred, however, on the morning President Patterson's cow was found on the speakers' platform, nonchalantly nibbling at a bale of hay. Dr. William S. Webb, who was a student in those fun-loving days, declares that only mountain boys would have been able to lure the cow up the steep flight of stairs, and that only they would have known how difficult it would be to get her down again. (Six workmen finally did it). On another memorable occasion, a surprised faculty and student body found a skeleton dangling from the chapel ceiling.

No wonder dads like to talk about the "good old days!"

Kona, Millstone Mines Inspected By Mine Bureau

Safety improvements have been commended and other desirable features have been suggested for the Elkhorn Coal Company's No. 2 and No. 3 mines at Kona, according to a bulletin released this week by the Kentucky Bureau of Mines. Both mines were inspected by state mining inspectors in late December.

More rock-dusting, adequate and unobstructed clearance space and shelter holes, and the use of goggles for eye-hazardous work were among the recommendations for Kona Mine No. 2. The inspector commended the erection of air-lock doors, the operation of ventilating fans from an independent power circuit but he proposed suitable installation of both main fans on the surface.

For mine No. 3, the inspector said ventilation was good and now conformed the Federal Mine Safety Code. He proposed safer transportation of blasting materials and the correction of doubtful roof conditions as detected. Other recent improvements in both mines were commended.

Among the recommendations for the Liberty Coal Company's No. 2 mine near Millstone were adequate haulageway clearance, frame electric equipment, pre-shift grounds for underground and weekly examinations for gas and other hazards, and fireproof air ducts and safety devices for the two ventilating fans at the mine. Inspected in January, the mine was commended in a Bureau of Mines report on its ventilation, systematic timbering method, and frequent roof-testing.

SERGEANT NEWS

A birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Holbrook Sunday evening honoring their daughter, Nan Lou. She received lots of nice gifts. A large crowd of her little friends were gathered to wish her many more birthdays. Millstone Miner Receives Welfare Medical Treatment

Six Kentucky miners, one from Letcher County, will be among the first group of paralyzed coal workers to be hospitalized in Washington, D. C., under the welfare program of the United Mine Workers.

Ed Tolliver, 43, of Millstone, will arrive in Washington Friday morning, and together with the other five from Kentucky and two from West Virginia, will be taken to the George Washington University hospital for medical care and treatment. Mr. Tolliver, a member of Local 5741, was injured in July 1940.

All six of the Kentucky miners to be hospitalized are members of local unions of District 30 of the UMWA. They all left Lexington, Thursday February 10. The two injured men from West Virginia were to board the train at Charleston.

Maybe the Argentines had failed to read our press clippings and were not overly impressed by what they had seen prior to that game.

RUPP REPORTS

U. K. Coach Looks Back on the Olympics

Chapter IV THAT GAME WITH ARGENTINA

Many times basketball fans have talked with me about the practice of scouting opponents, something I have always considered highly advisable. If I hadn't been convinced before about the wisdom of scouting future foes, I certainly would have been made a believer by one of the things that happened during the Olympic tournament at London.

The U. S. A. team and its coaches simply didn't go to the trouble to scout Argentina before our game with that team. After that struggle we scouted every team we had to play.

Following our return from the Olympics last summer, it seemed that everyone wanted to hear about that game. "What happened in THAT game?" they all asked. Well, it was simple enough: Argentina had a very fine team; our crowd on that particular day wasn't much.

Although we hadn't scouted Argentina's team and didn't realize it was possibly a dangerous outfit, we got away to a very nice start. In the last 10 minutes of the first half, however, the Argentines got hot in a shooting streak and with tremendous cheering to encourage them, came away at halftime with a seven-point lead.

The United States team in that encounter was flat. Our boys passed badly, time and time again lost the ball on a sure-scoring, fast-break situation, and generally were not alert in defensive play.

We came back a little better in the second half, and won out by a 59-57. If Argentina had beaten us in that round, of course, it would have been the greatest upset of the tournament.

There's no question but what we made a bad mistake in not scouting them.

Olympic chiefs in the U. S. had decided that our squad for the 1948 games would be made up of two units, one from AAU ranks, rather than assembling individual stars from here and there. In exhibitions in Scotland and again in the first three games in the Olympics it became apparent that it would be difficult to get a team to work smoothly by mixing up players from the two units. After the tight squeeze with Argentina it was decided to let the University of Kentucky quintet and two of the alternates, Vince Boryla and Ray Lumpp, operate as one unit and the Phillips Oilers, together with alternates Don Barksdale and Jackie Robinson, to comprise another unit.

We knew that a few players could be interchanged without harm, but felt it would be wise thereafter generally to stick to the unit system.

The other nations did not have this advantage. Canada's squad included five boys from a Vancouver team, but they were never played in the Olympics as a unit. Canada had a strong squad, made up of players with considerable talent and height, but its team never played smoothly at any time.

Teams from France, Korea, Egypt and the South American countries were made up of outstanding players taken from athletic-club teams in their countries. Our country could not have selected at random a collection of college or AAU stars and gotten the same polished teamwork that was shown by our units in the last Olympics.

George Pud Breeding

The end of life stares us in the face from every side. The fields a few months ago were green—they are now brown and lifeless, the tree that stood by our door last Summer, a thing of beauty—now seems to be lifeless—the leaves gone—the very buds seem to be dead—the people we used to know are gone—so God teaches us in his great word—we all must pass from this earth. So the call to come away reaches us all—we must go—we must answer—such a call came to George Pud Breeding last Saturday morning at 8:00 o'clock. He answered and his life among friends and folks he loved—came to an end. He had been promoted, we feel, to a higher and more noble life.

Pud Breeding, as he was generally known was born Dec. 2, 1897 and his earthly pilgrimage was 51 years, 2 months and 10 days—he was the son of John and Liza Breeding—his mother had preceded him in death several years—his father still living beyond 90 years of age. He was married to Ada Cornett, which has been a happy union and today his father, his wife, one daughter, Willa May Ison of Cincinnati, one brother, Ike and a Step-son, James Breeding—and many other relatives and friends are left behind.

Pud had been sick for a year—the best medical skill was sought—but in vain, he was patient and smiling to the end—and gently went to sleep as one goes to rest from a tired day's work—Saturday morning as he passed away. He had good care and attention—his wife stayed close by his side—she went with him to the hospitals—she never left him—good friends came in and helped out—and a greater friend than all, we feel, came to him and helped him in his suffering—saved him—and carried him away to mansions above—he said there was nothing in his way—that he was praying—and upon that faith he died. Pud was a kind husband and a good son, he helped his father and mother—he lived with them and took care of them and was a neighbor to all.

He told his wife the day before he passed away that he had been with Jesus, and that he would be back after him Sunday—and so we chronicle the passing of another of our friends.

It is not death to die—to leave this weary road,
And midst the brotherhood on high—be at home with God

It is not death to close the eye long dimmed with tears,
And wake in glorious repose to spend eternal years.

It is not death to bear the wrench that sets us free
From dungeon chain, to breathe the air of boundless liberty.

Jesus thou prince of life, thy people cannot die,
Like thee they conquer in the strife to reign with thee on high.

HERO of the Month

AS SELECTED BY THE DAV

S. Lyle Graham of Louisville, Ky., who used to play professional football with the Philadelphia Eagles, can button a shirt sleeve with his teeth and tie his shoe laces with one hand.

LYLE GRAHAM

Graham lost his left arm in the crash of a PBY Catalina bomber near the Admiralty Islands in 1944 during World War II service. If the fact that he couldn't play professional football again depressed him, Graham didn't show any lack of enthusiasm to overcome his handicap and succeed.

Today he is personnel manager for the Phillip Morris Co., Ltd.'s Louisville plant which employs 700 men.

Because he refused to let a serious handicap keep him from being a useful citizen, Graham has been selected as the "Hero of the Month" by the Disabled American Veterans.

The selection is part of a national program to honor each month a seriously disabled veteran who has successfully rehabilitated himself.

Born in Kenbridge, Va., October 28, 1915, Graham attended Farmville, Va. High School and the University of Richmond, where he played center on the football team.

Leaving college during the depression, he started work in the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. leaf department, and continued until he entered the Navy in 1941. During these years he also played professional football each fall, first for Virginia teams, later for the Philadelphia Eagles.

He completed Navy flight training and was commissioned in August, 1942, going overseas then as a PBY command pilot.

After months of combat, the nature of the incident which ended his military career and almost his life was "somewhat ironical," Graham recounts. The crash occurred not in combat, but while he was checking a new pilot out for combat duty.

His other injuries included a broken foot, four broken ribs, various deep cuts and a slash on his face which required 15 stitches. Only permanent injury was the loss of his left arm. He swam 50 yards before a crash boat picked him up.

Returned to Philadelphia for hospitalization, Graham felt "pretty disappointed" at the prospect of never playing football again. The Louisville opportunity came through a friend of prewar days who was personnel manager at the Richmond, Va., plant.

"It's taught me ingenuity, anyhow," Graham commented cheerfully. "I'll bet you can't button a sleeve with your teeth, or tie your shoe laces with one hand."

Among other decorations, Graham holds the Air Medal. He has a permit to fly single-engine planes, and does so every now and then at Louisville's Bowman Field.

While overseas he met his present wife, the former Miss Mavis Behrens, when she was a Navy nurse in Australia. They were married during his 10 months' stay in the Naval Hospital at Philadelphia. They have twin boys 3 years old and a girl, 1 year.

Graham is a member of the Louisville DAV Chapter No. 43.

Pfc. Jack Benger Killed In Action

Another Texas County mother received sad news. Mrs. Dora Vaudventer received a telegram stating that her son, Pfc. Jack Benger, was killed in action on Luzon Island.

Pfc. Jack Benger was born at Whitco, Ky., January 26, 1921, son of Ben and Dora Benge, was killed in action January 27, 1945, making his age at time of death 24 years and 1 day.

Jack's father was accidentally killed in a coal mine in Kentucky, in 1937. The death of the father left quite a load on the shoulders of Jack, he being the oldest son.

Jack moved to Clear Springs Mo., in April 1941, with his mother, brother and sister. He entered the service of his country May 5, 1942 and was never given a furlough. Jack was a good natured lad and his many friends will sympathize with the relatives when they learn of his passing.

We leave Jack in the hands of a just and perfect God, knowing the same God that judges him will judge all, and to our mind came the scripture, St. John 14: 1-2 "Let not your heart be troubled: Ye believe in God, believe in me. In my father's house are many mansions, if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you."

Jack leaves to mourn his passing his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Vaudventer, brother Ray Venge, Springfield, Mo., Pvt.,

Joe Benge, Pacific Area; sisters Mrs. Roselle Adams, Seco, Mrs. Patsy Morgan, Haymond and many other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at the Little Rock Regular Baptist Church, Kona, Ky., on Monday, Feb. 14th at 2:00 P. M., EST, with Elders T. R. Collier and others officiating. Burial in Potter Cemetery, Kona, Ky. Craft Funeral Home in charge of funeral arrangements.

Kentucky Group Gives Support To Big Sandy Canal

Canalization of the Big Sandy River was called for by a resolution of the Kentucky Petroleum Marketers Association in Louisville Wednesday. In a resolution the group pledged themselves to act "individually and collectively" for the project.

A member of the association declared that "great financial losses to businessmen and hardships to residents of the area" could be eliminated if the canalization became a fact. Copies of the resolution were sent to members of Congress from Kentucky and officials of the national administration. Vice-President Barkley recently pledged his support to the project.

Plans for the canalization of the river have been studied by the U. S. Corps of Engineers and call for a series of locks and dams on the Big Sandy and two tributaries.

State Farmers Called Excellent Loan Risks

Washington — The Farmers Home Administration reported today Kentuckians who borrow money from the Government to buy farms are among the better risks.

They rank second in the nation with regard to being ahead of schedule in paying back their loans.

Indiana farmers are not far off the pace, while Tennessee borrowers are in the top quarter.

The agency reported that as of June 30, 1948, loans that have been made in Kentucky amounted to $7,454,805 with repayments reaching $5,542,421.

Similar figures for Indiana were $6,440,670, and 4,051,010, and for Tennessee $10,397,927 and $6,656,263.

A table of farm borrowers who had unpaid balances on loans as of March 31, 1948 showed there were 667 Kentuckians with loans amounting to $4,809,462 who had come through with $1,049,101 in advance payments.

Several Changes Made In Letcher County Lock-Up

Letcher countains who visit the county jail, voluntarily or otherwise, are surprised at the changed appearance of the place. Although not exactly an inviting place, it is clean, in contrast with many other lock-ups in this section.

"I can't make it pretty, but I can keep it clean," Jailer John M. Adams says. Since Mr. Adams took over the job in August of last year, every room in the two-story building has been cleaned and painted, old blankets and mattresses have been replaced by new ones, and a metal ceiling has replaced the old wooden one.

The first storey of the brick structure is given over to the kitchen, the jailer's living quarters, and the women's cell block. Part of the women's section has been converted into storage space since the present jailer took over.

The upstairs of the jail is divided into two sections. The front section is devoted to a cell block for minor offenders. The back part contains a large cage for state prisoners and the worst local offenders. The cage has been enlarged to hold 12 men and, like the rest of the cells, has been cleaned and painted.

Since Mr. Adams became jailer two prisoners have sawed their way out of the cage but they were discovered before they could get out of the building. Since last August there have been three breaks, Mr. Adams reports, but all but one of the men involved were retaken shortly after they escaped.

The old wooden roof of the building was responsible for the escape of three men last September, Mr. Adams said. They sawed their way out but recaptured the next day. The roof is now all metal.

The capacity of the jail is 40, although it is seldom full. At present heat for the building is furnished by coal stoves but Mr. Adams hopes to have steam heat connected before next winter.

Jailer Adams has been in prison supervision work for the past 12 years. He worked at LaGrange, Greendale and Danville. Before becoming jailer he was probation and parole officer for Pike and Letcher counties. Appointed to succeed John H. Gose, his term expires January 1. "I expect I'll be a candidate for jailer this year," he says.

'Crime Does Not Pay'

(Published by the Bolan Academy, Inc., New York, N. Y.)

Yes, young people, "Crime does not pay," but instead you pay for it; perhaps with your life, or be sentenced to the State or Federal penitentiary, which of course would mold a disgraceful spot upon your excellence character which you have accomplished through years pass.

It is considered that it could have been a naccident as well as a temptation, or maybe you've been framed, so as to speak, but remember school mates, we must consider the following three things:

First: The party with whom you associate, considering their character in connection with yours.

Second: The place you work, type of job and its associations and the like.

Third: the most important your character, now why do we stress that point. Sure that's right, because there lies your entire future, so regardless whatever circumstances you'll have to face, guard that character as you would a baby.

Young people of the future on which our Nation is depending, let me pass onto you information handed down to us by the National Commission on Law observance and enforcement.

Quote: Cost of crime to the Federal Government is said to be $52,786,000 a year.

Cost of criminal Justice in the United States is considerably more than $350,000,000.

A member of the employers association of Chicago, estimated that in that city alone, cost of racket amounts to $136,000,000 a year.

It is estimated that the cost of crime in the United States a year amounts to $15,000,000,000, now let us take these figures and reduce them into income tax, in order to balance this figure it would cost every man, woman, child of this nation $120 each.

It is said that fifteen billion dollars annual cost of crime is 400 per cent greater than the national cost of education, which is three (3) billion dollars. So without going any further, you can certainly see, why we stress these facts to you as our future replacements for national security to remain as a speculm, which will reflect toward the prevention of crime.

A LETTER

Mr. Dave Craft, Special Representative,
Reliance Life Insurance Co.
McRoberts, Ky.

Dear Mr. Craft:

I thank you for the prompt delivery of the $5,000 check from your company in payment of the life insurance policy No. 979017 that my late husband purchased from you. While no amount of money, or other material things can replace my husband in my esteem and affection, it is nevertheless comforting, and it imbues me with a deeper abiding consolation, to reflect that his often spoken words of respect, and love, and care were implemented and proved in his act of sacrificing to save the money to buy the protection you sold to him for those he loved. And I appreciate very deeply, your kindly assistance in preparation of the claim papers.

Sincerely,

Signed:

WHAT IS A BOY

After a male baby outgrows long dresses and triangles, and acquires pants, freckles and so much dirt that relatives don't dare to kiss him, he becomes a boy.

A boy is nature's answer to that false belief that there is no such thing as perpetual motion. A boy is a growing animal of superlative promise who can swim like a fish, run like a deer, climb like a squirrel, balk like a mule, bellow like a bull, eat like a pig, or act like a jackass, according to climatic conditions.

A boy, if not washed too often and kept in a cool, quiet place after each accident, will survive broken bones, hornets, measles, fights and nine helpings of pie.

A boy is a piece of skin stretched over an appetite; a noise covered with smudges. A boy is the problem of our times, the hope of the world. Every boy born is evidence that God is not yet discouraged with men.— Beaumont News.

NEWS in the WORLD of RELIGION
BY W.M. REID

Church World Service, which acts as the agent of American Protestantism in gathering and administering relief and reconstruction funds and materials overseas, reports that during 1948 it shipped to 40 countries in Europe, Asia, and Africa, on behalf of the churches, food, clothing, medicines, and religious supplies to a total value of $12,280,000. Included in the shipments were more than 37,000,000 pounds of vital foods for war ravaged and underprivileged peoples; and also 65 pre-fabricated churches, schools and mission homes for war-damaged communities in Japan.

The Japan Christian University Foundation, of which Dr. Ralph E. Diffendorfer is president, and Dr. James L. Fieser is executive secretary, will begin on April 18 an intensive campaign to raise in the United States and Canada $10,000,000 for the "Christian University of Japan." According to Dr. Diffendorfer, it will be a "standardizing university," setting standards for recognition and issuing academic agreements, and relating present colleges and professional schools to itself. The University will have its own campus, the site has been secured near Tokyo, and the first college will be one for the training of teachers for Japan's modernized school system. The University, first thought of as "atonement" for the atomic bomb, has the approval of General MacArthur and other leaders; and many Japanese, including members of the imperial household are contributing to the fund. The Foundation has the fund.

"Colonial policies which cannot be maintained save by resort to military action are morally bankrupt," says the Social Action Council of the Congregational Christian Churches. "We may not be able to take direct action to halt this use of force by the Netherlands, but we can see to it that the resources of the United States are not made available for such perversion. The equipment being used by the Dutch army was largely made in America. We are engaged in a great project to restore the productive strength of Western Europe, including the Netherlands, and if this strength is to be used, directly or indirectly, for 'police action' against dependent peoples, we stand condemned in the eyes of the world, and especially the eyes of Asia, as the imperialist power we profess to be. We protest such misuse of American support, and we deplore the opportunity this gives critics of American policy to assert, with reason, that temporary military expediency rather than high moral purpose lies at the base of our foreign policies."

STATE CAN SEND TAX AGENTS INTO COUNTIES

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 4.—The State Revenue Department has the authority to send agents into counties to evaluate property for assessment, Assistant Attorney General Walter C. Herdman said today.

The law gives the department the power to review assessments and initiate increases and decreases in assessed valuation, Herdman said.

The courts have held the department, through its agent, the Tax Commission, can equalize assessments between counties and insure that all property is listed at its fair cash value, he added.

Herdman said the department cannot arbitrarily raise an individual's assessment except for the purpose of procuring equalization.

The opinion went to Walter Van Hoose, Nippa, Johnson County. The department has been conducting a reassessment project in that county.

Cab Drivers Local To Elect President

A meeting will be held Thursday night, Feb. 17, by Local 751, United Construction Workers, to elect a president for the Whitesburg taxicab drivers union, to succeed Charley Blair, resigned.

W. M. Alsip was elected sergeant-at-arms.

The regular business of the union, in addition to electing a president, will be taken up at the Thursday night meeting.

WILL IT LAST?

For the past several days rain has fallen at intervals in Letcher County but has not reached the flood and havoc stage that it has attained in the western part of the state. The jonquils are blooming, tulips are quite high, and many other flowering plants and shrubs are already in full dress. This has been the mildest winter we have ever experienced in the mountains and we cannot help but wonder if it will last.

Recipe of the Week
Carrot and rice ring makes an attractive hot dish for a party luncheon or supper, particularly when it is served with creamed chicken or ham. Mrs. Pear Haak, food specialist at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Ky., suggests this recipe.

Carrot and Rice Ring
1 1/2 cups shredded raw carrots
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 cup cooked rice
1 cup grated cheese
1 beaten egg
1-2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Parboil the shredded raw carrots for five minutes in boiling salted water. Drain well. Combine with other ingredients. Pour into a buttered ring mold. Bake in a moderate oven, 450 degrees, for 30 minutes, or until firm. Fill center with creamed chicken or ham. Recipe serves four to five.

Menu: Carrot and rice ring with creamed chicken, buttered string beans, corn sticks, butter, cabbage slaw, and cherry betty.

A Cash Crop
Strawberries

Have you ever thought about raising strawberries for sale? Do you need a cash crop?

In order to have a success with strawberries a site must be selected which is not too fertile and which is well drained. Plants must be set in march or April Recommended varieties are Tennessee Beauty, Blakemore, Tennessee Shipper and Aroma.

The first year it is best to clip the bloom from the plant, thereby giving the plant a chance to develop plenty runners early.

A good sized patch to start with would be a quarter of an acre which would require 1000 plants. An average yield for a quarter of an acre would be from 750 to 1000 quarts of berries. This is not impossible in Letcher County. Where is there a better market? What do strawberries sell for a quart? Where can people buy a crate of berries to can for winter use?

population of 154,669,000 in 1955; and by making a net allowance for immigration 155,745,000.

Starting with 18,269,000 enrolled in elementary schools in 1947, the bureau predicted an increase each year until an enrollment in Grades 1 to 1957. In that year it forecast 8 of 26,594,000—nearly 46 per cent above 1947.

Eula Mae Gibson Dubovsky

Eula Mae Gibson Dubovsky, was born at Mayking, Ky., October 17, 1913, and passed away at Dearborn, Michigan February 3, 1949.

Her mother died when she was of an early age and she immediately assumed the cares of looking after her younger brother and sister. After finishing grade school at Mayking, and Whitesburg, she went to Caney Community school for high school and college. After she had finished school she came back to Whitesburg and soon started working in the Five and Ten Cent store of J. B. Dick and Co., where she made a host of friends.

In 1933 she became a christian and united with the First Baptist Church of Whitesburg and was a faithful and active member in church and Sunday School work during the time she remained here.

In 1943 she went to Dearborn, Michigan with B. W. Hale's family and was employed by Cunninghams Drug Stores for more than five years. During the time she was at Dearborn she met Rudolph Dubovsky and this acquaintanceship led to their marriage on August 22, 1948. The short duration of this marriage was the happiest period of her life.

She leaves surviving her, her husband, Rudolph Dubovsky of Dearborn, Michigan, her father, D. B. Gibson and sister, Mrs. Forrest Hall of Baltimore, Maryland, William F. Gibson of Whitesburg, many relatives and a host of friends who loved her and who will miss her friendliness and and kindly attentions. Her whole life might be summed up by saying that she always thought of others before herself.

Millstone Miners Return To Work

A union-company dispute at the Millstone mine of the South East Coal Company was settled satisfactory this week, according to a company official.

The workers at the mine walked out last week in protest over what was called unsafe working conditions caused by the company's alleged failure to remove bad top and loose rock from the main haulage-way. The miners returned to work Wednesday of this week.
